-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 6-12,19,21-34 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

2. Claims 2,5,34 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim.

Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 13 recites the limitation "the creation". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. There is no previous recitation of this limitation.

5. Claim 17 recites the limitation "the execution units". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. There is no previous recitation of this limitation.

6. Claim 20 recites the limitation "the at least one application controller". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. There is no previous recitation of this limitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

8. Claims 1,2,4,5,74 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Chandra et al. (USPN 6594779B1). As per claims 1 and 74, Chandra et al. discloses at least one node, each node including node controller means for starting, stopping and detecting a failure of a process on the node in column 5, lines 36-51; a plurality of application controllers wherein: each application controller includes control means for managing at least one application according to an execution model in column 5, lines 36-51; and a first application controller including management means for managing a different type of software from a second application controller in column 5, lines 36-51; and an execution controller, the execution controller including execution control means for maintaining status information of processes started by the node controller executing on the at least one node and maintaining status and availability information of the at least one node in column 5, lines 56-63.

9. As per claim 2, Chandra et al. discloses including a plurality of nodes and wherein the execution controller means include means for maintaining status and availability information of the plurality of nodes in column 5, lines 56-63.

Art Unit: 2113

10. As per claim 4, Chandra et al. discloses at least one node, each node including a node controller configured to start, stop and detect a failure of a process on the node in column 5, lines 36-51; a plurality of application controllers wherein: each application controller is configured to manage at least one application according to an execution model in column 5, lines 36-51; and a first application controller configured to manage applications according to an execution model that is different from the execution model of the applications managed by a second application controller in column 5, lines 36-51; and an execution controller, the execution controller configured to: maintain status information of processes started by the node controller executing on the at least one node; and maintain status and availability information of the at least one node in column 5, lines 56-63.

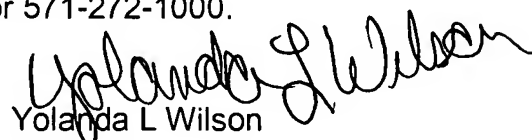

11. As per claim 5, Chandra et al. discloses including a plurality of nodes and wherein the execution controller maintains status and availability information of the plurality of nodes in column 5, lines 56-63.
